

OnePlus 8T teased by Robert Downey Jr. Is Releasing Soon As The Launch Date Leaked

Dated: 21/Sep/2020

The year 2020 has marked the perfect up and down situation for the smartphone era. These positive and negative variations took place due to the worldwide pandemic, the Covid-19. Many businesses and smartphone companies have been affected cynically due to this reason. However, even facing a difficult time, many of the mature companies have been making efforts and gaining progress at a turtle's pace. In the past few months, different smartphone companies have launched mid-range products. OnePlus Smartphone Company has also proved to be in the list of active companies. It has been confirmed by the OnePlus that they will be releasing its new product, the "OnePlus 8T" in the mid of the next month.

OnePlus has released a teaser for its upcoming “OnePlus 8T” smart gadget, featuring who else but the talented American Actor “Robert Downey Jr.”. The less than 10 seconds teaser aimed to give the business idea displaying the product prototype reflecting an idea of a much sturdier device. It has definitely assured the launch of the smartphone in a short time. The date of release of the “OnePlus 8T” wasn’t mentioned in the teaser. However, the MySmartPrice and Ishan Agarwal declared a rough guess that it could release on the 14th of the next month.

The Indian Amazon platform has generated a quiz for the public regarding the pre-launch publicity of the “OnePlus 8T” smartphone. Similarly, OnePlus has also developed a landing page for the upcoming product in which they’ve put multiple actions for the viewers. As per their given options, one can register himself to get updated about the product. In addition to this, another option grants anticipation to receive the OnePlus 8T voucher to buy it.

There isn’t a piece of authentic information about the specs and features of the OnePlus 8T mobile phone. But it has been foreseen that the set might have topnotch capabilities. Rumors declare that the smart device would include the Snapdragon 865 System on a Chip. Moreover, the 120 Hertz display would excite the public interest. Although, there isn’t any proclamation with regard to the OnePlus 8T Pro smart device and this has remained the crucial query yet.
