

Apple Sends Invitations For The Virtual Launch Event On September 15

Dated: 09/Sep/2020

It has been reported two days back on Twitter that the Apple Company has announced an event for its multiple product launches. As per the report, this virtual event will take place on the 15th of September, 2020. The tweets of this particular report that circulated across the social media platforms were having a hashtag of #AppleEvent. Soon afterward, the teaser of this upcoming Apple product launch event was launched by none other than the company's SVP of Marketing, Greg Joswiak.

The associates of the press are officially requested their presence for the event through official invitations to join Apple's launch event. This event has been given the name "Time Flies". Apple has planned to introduce its Smart Watches and some of their updates. These probably include the Apple Smart Watch models that are, the Apple Watch Series 6, and the upgraded, low-priced model of the Apple Series 3 Smart Watch for building people's interest in the Apple products and providing a way for them to become their customers.

According to reports from multiple sources, it has also come into consideration that Apple is going to release its new iPhone 12 series in this launch event. This could be an overwhelming decision as the Apple lovers have been waiting for this news for a very long time. The iPhone 12 series consists of four exceptional models having 5G utility enabled. However, it has been disclosed that only the Pro Max model of the iPhone 12 series shall have the mmWave 5G support. The others may support the low level of 5G that is, Sub-6Hz 5G compatibility. Reports also reveal that Apple may be releasing the full edge-to-edge screened iPad tablets, namely iPad Air. However, this is just considered to be the word on the street and shall be confirmed on the 15th of September.

Moreover, it has been predicted also that Apple shall reveal the latest and its new products including, the inexpensive HomePod Speaker, Pair of over-ear headphones, Apple TV hardware along with a smart remote having a tracking feature resembling to "Find My iPhone", the AirTags that enable you to track your possessions and goods. Although, all of these predictions and reports shall be confirmed and in front of our eyes next week in Apple's "Time Flies" virtual launch event. The event is expected to start off at 10:00 a.m. (PDT) on 15th September 2020.
